As the weekend approaches, indulge in self-care; a little pampering will help recharge your energy and keep you grounded.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)

Your social calendar is packed this week! New connections and networking opportunities abound, but remember to prioritize quality interactions. Midweek, a creative idea may blossom—don't hesitate to share it. Towards the weekend, take a step back to reflect on your relationships and ensure they align with your goals.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)

This week encourages you to nurture your emotional well-being. Introspection is key; journaling or meditative practices can provide insights. Work-related stress might surface, so set boundaries to protect your mental health. By the weekend, focus on reconnecting with loved ones to share your thoughts and feelings.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22)

Your charisma shines brightly this week, drawing people to you. Engage in group activities, as collaboration will lead to rewarding outcomes. Midweek, an old friend may reach out, sparking nostalgia. Use this time to strengthen your social circle and pursue creative projects that inspire you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 23)

This week emphasizes organization and productivity. Tackle tasks you've been avoiding; the sense of accomplishment will motivate you. Midweek, a conversation about work may reveal new opportunities. As the weekend approaches, carve out time for self-care and reflection to maintain balance.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)

As October ends, your creativity flourishes. Engage in artistic pursuits or explore new hobbies. This week also encourages open communication in your relationships; honesty will strengthen bonds. By the weekend, consider a social outing—connecting with others will uplift your spirits.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

Happy birthday season, Scorpio! This week is all about transformation and embracing change. Reflect on your personal goals and desires; consider what you want to manifest in the coming year. Midweek, a surprise may challenge your comfort zone, but trust your instincts. End the week with a celebration of your journey.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

This week invites exploration and adventure. Whether through travel or new experiences, seek opportunities to broaden your horizons. Conversations with friends can lead to exciting plans. Midweek, a moment of introspection may bring clarity about your path. As the weekend approaches, prioritize rest to recharge.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22.- Jan. 20)

Your focus shifts to career and ambitions this week. Hard work will pay off, but be cautious not to neglect personal relationships. Midweek, a mentor or colleague may offer valuable advice; stay open to feedback. By the weekend, take a moment to celebrate your achievements and reconnect with loved ones.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 -Feb. 19)

As Days Get Shorter, Check Vehicle Lights, Wipers

Winter is quickly approaching and that means fewer hours of daylight. To be sure you can be seen by others and your visibility is not compromised, check your vehicle's lights and wipers, says the non-profit Car Care Council.

The days are getting shorter, so it is a good time to check that your vehicle's wipers and lighting are working properly; the chance of an accident increases if you can't see or be seen. From the driver's seat you may not notice a light that isn't working, so it's important to check all of your car's lights and replace those that are out. Inspecting and replacing wiper blades so you can see clearly when wet weather hits is also crucial.

The wiper system keeps excessive water, snow, and dirt from building up on the windshield, maintaining clear visibility. Many factors can accelerate the replacement interval of wipers, including operating conditions (winter conditions are tough on wiper blades), frequency of use, material and type of wipers and sunny weather. Lights are normal wear items that require periodic inspection and replacement. The lighting system provides nighttime visibility; signals and alerts other drivers; and supplies light for viewing instruments and the vehicle's interior. In addition to replacing dimming, rapidly blinking and non-functioning lights, the following tips can help keep you safe:

If there is any doubt about whether or not your headlights should be on, turn them on. Lights not only help you see better in early twilight, they also make it easier for other drivers to see you. Keep headlights, taillights and signal lights clean. External dirt and debris can dim operational lights from being seen by others. Make sure that your headlights are properly aimed. Misaimed headlights blind other drivers and reduce your ability to see the road.

Don't overdrive your headlights; you should be able to stop inside the illuminated area, otherwise you are creating a blind crash area in front of your vehicle.

HEART MURMURS IN DOGS

Submitted By Patsy Nelson
 from The Wagging Tail

Last week I wrote about Ebby's Patellar Luxation operation which occurred two Wednesdays ago as of today. Tomorrow, she goes to the vet to have her sutures removed. She is not yet putting consistent weight on it and when she moves at a quicker stride she keeps her repaired left back leg up off the ground, managing quite well on three legs. We had a scare two nights ago as she got her front paw caught in her neck guard and started to freak out (as she is prone to do) and put too much pressure on her healing knee. She acted like she had really hurt herself. By the following morning, with bed rest, she was better. I still would not use the plastic Elizabethan cone as they are so cumbersome.

I had mentioned that I did not know she had a slight heart murmur until she was examined for patellar luxation. A heart murmur is diagnosed with a stethoscope; the doctor hears an abnormal flow of blood within the dog's heart. Vets can determine the intensity, location, and timing of the murmur. There are six grades of intensity, one being barely perceived and six being dire. Puppies may have a heart murmur, but they usually normalize within five months. Having a heart murmur is not always a disease diagnosis. Some are benign and may go away on their own. An older dog's heart murmur may be identified as pathologic-if it is caused by heart disease-or extracardiac if heart disease is absent.

A dog may alert you to having a heart murmur or more serious heart issues (I rescued two miniature poodle brothers-delivered six months apart by a home breeder in the Villas and they both developed congestive heart failure as they got older.) Some symptoms to look for based on the article I researched are: *irregular heartbeat or racing pulse *Hacking, persistent cough *Excessive panting even when resting *Lack of energy or appetite *Collapsing or fainting *Gums and/or tongue bluish *Severe water retention. The common causes of heart murmurs in small dogs are chronic valve disease, degenerative mitral valve disease, or endocardiosis. In larger dogs it is commonly from DCM (dilated cardiomyopathy) which is usually hereditary.

You may remember the big hullabaloo generated by the FDA on the dangers of grain-free diets. After blasting reputable food companies, like Fromm, for 2 1/2 years, the FDA finally admitted there was no conclusive evidence! Yet some vets are STILL talking about it.

If you are concerned about your dog having DCM have a yearly check up with your vet and make sure your dog's food contains enough taurine. An easy maintenance plan to protect your dog is a daily dose of sardines!

Thank you to those who tell me how much they like to read my articles. If there is any issue you would like me to address simply call or Facebook, the store. A safe Happy Halloween.
