HOROSCOPE

DECEMBER 5 - DECEMBER 11, 2024

ARIES (Mar. 21 - April 20)

This week brings fresh energy to your relationships, Aries, with a focus on communication and mutual understanding. Be mindful of your words; they have the power to heal or harm, especially in close partnerships. Embrace collaboration as it will lead to success in both personal and professional realms.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)

Taurus, December kicks off with a strong emphasis on your daily routines and work life. The stars encourage you to evaluate your goals and take a step toward improving your health or work habits. Keep an open mind to new methods or ideas that may offer significant improvement.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)

The first week of December is all about creative expression, Gemini. Whether it's a new hobby, a creative project, or spending time with loved ones, indulge in activities that bring you joy. However, balance is key; don't let fun distractions derail your responsibilities.

CANCER (June 22 - July 22)

Your home and family life come into focus this week, Cancer. You may feel a strong urge to create more harmony within your personal space, whether through organization or nurturing connections. Pay attention to emotional needs, as both giving and receiving support will strengthen bonds.

LEO (July 23 - Aug 22)

This week, your mind is sharp, Leo, and you'll feel a natural curiosity driving you toward new ideas or learning. Take advantage of opportunities to expand your knowledge or connect with people who offer fresh perspectives. Be careful not to overextend yourself; balance mental pursuits with moments of rest.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 23)

Financial matters are on your mind, Virgo, and it's a good time to assess your resources or make practical adjustments to your budget. Trust your instincts when it comes to investments or making purchases, but remember to avoid impulsive decisions. Focus on long-term stability over short-term gains.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)

Libra, the first week of December brings a surge of personal energy, making it an ideal time for self-reflection and growth. You may feel more confident and ready to take charge of your goals, so trust your intuition and take initiative. Be mindful of others' needs, balancing your ambitions with empathy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

Scorpio, this week may feel a bit introspective, as you focus on your inner world and seek solitude or relaxation. It's a good time to tie up loose ends from the past and let go of emotional baggage. Take time for rest, and don't hesitate to reflect on what truly matters to you moving forward.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 21)

Social connections play a central role this week, Sagittarius. You may find yourself reuniting with old friends or forming new alliances that support your future goals. Keep an eye out for opportunities to collaborate on a shared vision, but don't spread yourself too thin—quality over quantity is key.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan. 20)

Capricorn, this week is all about your career and long-term ambitions. You'll feel a surge of determination to tackle professional challenges, but be cautious not to burn out. Prioritize practical steps toward your goals and don't shy away from seeking guidance if needed.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)

Adventure is calling you this week, Aquarius, as the stars align to encourage exploration of new ideas, places, or philosophies. Stay open-minded and embrace learning experiences that broaden your perspective. Be aware, however, that sudden changes may require flexibility, so stay adaptable.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar. 20)

This week, Pisces, you'll feel a deep focus on shared resources or emotional bonds. A financial matter or a situation involving trust could require your attention and careful management. Stay grounded and patient as you navigate through complexities—your intuition will guide you toward the right decisions.

Improve Windshield Vision, Safety For Your Holiday Driving

Tips for choosing and caring for wiper blades:

Do your wiper blades rub, scrape or vibrate as the arm moves across your windshield? Once the thin rubber blade has worn down, metal claws on conventional wiper blades can etch lines into the windshield. Replace wiper blades before the wiper assembly causes permanent damage to your vehicle windshield.

Do your vehicle's wiper blades cause streaks? The problem usually indicates poor contact between the wiper blade and glass surface. A beam blade can solve the problem.

What causes deterioration of wiper blades? Intense summer sun hardens and cracks rubber compounds in blades. Vehicles left outside are particularly susceptible to deleterious effects of the sun's UV rays.

How often should wiper blades be replaced? Frequent use in winter and scraping across frost-covered windshield accelerates wear on the blade edge. Some blades have a UV indicator that lets you know when they need to be changed. Manufacturers recommend replacing wiper blades every six months or sooner if you notice they are not maintaining windshield visibility. Invest in a second pair of wiper blades. Use one for winter and a second for the other three seasons.

What about rear wiper blades on SUVs? On most modern vehicles, windshield blades get tucked under the hood when not in use. Not so with rear blades. They are exposed to hot sun as well as freezing conditions, and they tend to wear out quickly. Changes your rear SUV blades twice a year to prevent smearing and streaks.

What kinds of blades provide the best wear? Silicone or synthetic blends are a good alternative to all-rubber blades. Blades containing synthetic compounds remain pliable in cold weather. All-rubber blades tend to get gooey in intense heat and harden in freezing temperatures.

What size of replacement blades do you need? Wiper blades are specific to your vehicle. Some vehicles have two different sizes of blades for the windshield. SUVs have a different size of blade for front windshield and rear window. You can find the right sizes in your owner's manual or simply ask your service advisor. Extend life, performance of wiper blades by keeping them clean. Leaves, small pieces of limbs or insects can get stuck on the blade. Use a terry cloth or microfiber towel and quick detailer spray to remove debris. Watch for rust spots on metal parts, which indicate the assembly may fail. Use a terry cloth or microfiber towel to wipe away debris, bug goo, sap and other contaminants that stick to the blade and keep it from performing properly. Keep your windshield glass clean of debris and contaminants that can damage blades as they sweep across the glass. Use a window cleaner designed for automobile glass to prevent streaks and avoid damage to window tint film. Spray your windshield and rear window with a rain repellent to improve visibility and help prevent beads of water from drying on surfaces. Rain repellent also helps wiper blades glide easier across the glass surface.

What type and style of blades should you use? Winter wiper blades are constructed of thick rubber to sweep away snow and ice. Beam blades are well-suited to locations with lots of rain and windy conditions. They don't attach a metal frame, so they're more flexible and shape to the curve of your windshield. Heavy duty blades are designed for vans and commercial vehicles to take the brunt of ice, snow, rain and insects splattering into vertical windshields. Rain repellent blades provide less friction and sweep away moisture efficiently. Rugged blades may be used for off-roading to handle the mud and grime encountered on backcountry trails. Acoustic blades help reduce annoying blade noise for a quieter cabin. Blades with a UV indicator let you know when it's time to replace worn out wipers.

IT SUDDENLY FEELS LIKE WINTER-PROTECT YOUR PETS

Submitted By
Patsy Nelson
from The Wagging Tail

Some of the plants in the garden have not entirely given up as we have yet to have a deep frost. Some neighbors took advantage of warmer weather around Thanksgiving to decorate for Christmas. Bob and I are just starting. And we hope to have the store looking ready by Friday.

I know I am always harping about putting jackets on your dogs in various weights depending on the thickness of the dog's fur. It's important to protect your dog from the cold wind and precipitation that accompanies winter. Even now my dogs have on their Gold Paw fleece cover-ups (they wear these all day) followed by a light jacket to go outside. In colder weather I put warmer jackets on them. Recently on one of our colder days, I had two customers who came in with their dogs, their owners were bundled up while their dogs were not covered at all. Not even a harness, which is an EASY, safe way to protect your dog in the car, tying the leash to the head rest. One of the dogs had no hair like a boxer or beagle. When a dog lives in a heated house, they do not develop a natural winter coat like a horse that lives outside with only a lean-to for protection. A horse's coat gets denser and denser as the weather proceeds to get more frigid. Imagine if you had to get out of your warm bed in cotton pjs and to go outside for even 5 minutes in very cold temperatures. Pretty shocking to the system.

That is how your pet's body reacts. The dog's body begins to rapidly lose heat. The core body temperature drops and the blood vessels near the skin constrict sending reinforcements to the vital organs. The joints are then less protected leading to potential joint problems. The body burns more energy to produce internal heat. Young, old, or medically compromised pets are more prone to cold stress. My elderly cat likes to go out to the backyard-we have a big yard and high privacy fence. He also has hypothyroidism, so he wears a thick Gold Paw fleece top, and sometimes one of Zoey's weatherproof jackets. If walking on snowy or iced streets add foot coverings, or paw wax to protect the paws from cracking. Trim the hair between the toes and wash feet with warm water to eliminate any salt from the roads.

Another thing to remember is to not take your dog on short shopping trips with you, and again the dog should be wearing a coat, as those trips may extend longer than you expected. A car has little, or no insulation and it takes on the temperatures of the outside weather, quickly becoming like a refrigerator. The picture illustrates two dangerous oversights: no coat and no harness. We have a very large selection of jackets, sweatshirts, and sweaters, good quality and good prices. And some of our renowned Weatherbeeta are reduced another $15.00!

Thank you again for choosing The Wagging Tail as Best of The Jersey Shore, three years in a row. And thank you for supporting a local small business. Come see our kittens and cats!
