HOROSCOPE

OCTOBER 17 - OCTOBER 23, 2024

ARIES (Mar. 21- April 20)

This week brings a focus on your relationships. You might feel the need to have important conversations that you've been postponing. Vulnerability can be challenging for you, but opening up to a close friend or partner could lead to deeper understanding and connection.

TAURUS (Apr. 21- May 21)

Your work life is calling for your attention this week. You may find yourself juggling multiple projects or deadlines, but don't let stress overwhelm you. Organizing your tasks will help you stay focused. Financial opportunities may present themselves, perhaps in the form of a promotion or a new job offer.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)

Creativity is your guiding star this week. Dive into artistic pursuits or hobbies that ignite your passion. Your imagination is heightened, making it a great time to brainstorm new ideas. Social events are also on the horizon, providing you with opportunities to expand your network.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)

This week calls for emotional introspection. You may feel the urge to retreat into your shell, and that's okay! Spend quality time at home or with loved ones to recharge your emotional batteries. It's a good time to address any lingering issues in your personal life; having heart-to-heart conversations can bring closure and healing.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22)

Communication is key for you this week, Leo. Whether it's at work or in your personal life, don't hesitate to share your ideas and insights. Your confidence can inspire others, and you may find yourself in a position of influence during discussions.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 23)

Financial matters take precedence this week. It's a good time to review your budget and plan for upcoming expenses. Consider exploring new income streams or investment opportunities, but do your research first. You have a knack for analysis, so use it to your advantage.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)

Libra, this week is your time to shine! Your natural charm and diplomacy can draw people to you, making it an ideal moment for self-expression. Engage in projects that allow you to showcase your talents, whether at work or in your personal life.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

This week encourages deep self-reflection, Scorpio. You might find yourself contemplating your goals and desires. Take time to journal or meditate, allowing your intuition to guide you. Address any unresolved emotions, especially regarding relationships. Open conversations can lead to clarity and healing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

Friendships and community engagement are highlighted this week. Reconnect with old friends or get involved in group activities that resonate with your interests. You might stumble upon collaborative projects that excite you and align with your goals.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22.- Jan. 20)

Career developments are in focus this week, Capricorn. Your hard work and dedication are likely to be recognized, so don't hesitate to showcase your accomplishments. If you're seeking a promotion or new opportunities, now is the time to advocate for yourself. Stay organized and focused on your goals; this is a prime period for advancement.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)

This week is all about expanding your horizons. You may feel drawn to new experiences, whether through travel, education, or simply engaging in new activities. Embrace this desire for growth and exploration; it will invigorate your spirit. A fresh perspective can spark creativity, so consider diving into projects that challenge your usual way of thinking.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)

Emotions may run deep this week, Pisces. You could find yourself reflecting on your personal relationships and any unresolved issues. It's a good time to seek support from trusted friends or family members; sharing your feelings can provide relief.

HOW TO IMPROVE GAS MILEAGE: TIPS FOR SAVINGS

Plan Your Trips: Map fuel-efficient routes to minimize unnecessary turn-arounds & backtracking. Combine errands & go to "one-stop shops" where you can do multiple tasks (banking, shopping, etc.). Avoiding peak traffic times can also help improve fuel economy by reducing the need to idle & constantly change speeds.

Reduce Weight: The heavier your car, the more fuel it needs to operate. This is especially true for small cars. Regularly declutter your car to reduce weight & keep your car tidy. Consider removing bike or roof racks if you're not planning to use them soon. Removing 100 lbs from your car can increase fuel economy by 1%.

Drive To Warm the Engine: In cold temperatures, start the engine & then drive the car normally to warm the engine rather than letting it idle. Driving brings the engine to operating temperature more rapidly.

Anticipate Road Conditions: While on the road, watch the traffic ahead & "time" stoplights to maintain momentum & avoid unnecessary stop-&-go.

Avoid Speeding: Fuel economy peaks at around 50 mph on most cars. Wind resistance increases as you speed up, so maintaining a steady & safe speed can help avoid the decline in fuel efficiency. Driving the recommended speed limit can increase fuel economy between 7-14%.

Drive Conservatively: Driving at a consistent speed on the highway saves gas & avoids unnecessary braking or acceleration. You can use cruise control to maintain speed on long, straight streets or highways. However, never use it on slippery roads as it could cause a loss of vehicle control. Avoid fast acceleration and hard braking as well. This can lower fuel economy by 15-40%.

Avoid Excessive Idling: When idling, car engines use up to 1/2 gal of fuel/hour. Warm engines take about 10 seconds worth of fuel to restart. Shut off your engine when stopped for more than a minute if it's safe.

Check Tire Pressure & Align Tires: Maintaining proper tire pressure reduces friction with the road. Proper inflation can improve gas mileage by .6% on average. Check tire alignment at least once a year or every 12,000-15,000 mi. Proper alignment helps avoid wear & tear, veering & vibrating while improving fuel efficiency.

Routinely Replace and Use the Correct Oil: Routinely changing your oil helps your car's engine run efficiently by lubricating parts, cooling the engine & preventing buildup. Your engine will work harder if it's low on clean oil & uses more fuel.

Replace Air Filters: Your car works harder to clean its interior air if it has dirty air filters. For most cars, you'll need to replace your air filter at least once a year or every 12,000-15,000 mi. You may need to replace air filters more frequently if you live in an area like a desert or beach.

Replace Spark Plugs: Worn-out spark plugs can result in engine misfire, slow acceleration times & fuel inefficiencies. Inspect spark plugs at least once a year.

Address Car Warning Lights Right Away: The check engine light is one of many signals on your dashboard. Familiarize yourself with other lights & what they mean. This includes knowing the lights related to your tire pressure, brake system & transmission temperature.

Maintain Regular Tune-ups: Proactive car maintenance can help you avoid common causes of gas mileage issues. Mechanics check critical components during a car tune-up to ensure everything works properly.

FLEAS ARE THE MAIN TRANSMITTER OF CAT SCRATCH FEVER

Submitted By Patsy Nelson
 from The Wagging Tail

Dogs, cats, and humans can get Bartonella, commonly known as Cat Scratch Fever, an infectious disease caused by the Bartonella bacteria, from ingesting the flea feces (flea dirt) left on your pet by fleas. (Ticks can transmit it as well.) Humans usually get it from being scratched or bitten by a cat that has been infected with the bacteria. Also, through the saliva of an infected pet licking an open sore/wound on a human. 40% of all cats carry the Bartonella bacteria-sometimes as many as seven bacteria members- that cause CSD during their lifetime, but they don't usually exhibit any symptoms. Dogs, like humans, can suffer a great deal. Approximately 12,000 people a year (especially young male children who tend to play more aggressively with kittens or cats) will get CSD with 500 needing hospitalization. You probably know of a neighbor, friend, family member, or coworker who had to get heavy doses of antibiotics for cat scratch fever.

If your cat is not showing any of the symptoms below, you can find out if your cat is currently a carrier through blood tests (multiple ones may be necessary because the bacteria does not always circulate,) and other tests like the IgG titer or the FeBart Test which apparently is quite accurate. The National Veterinary Laboratory recommends that all cats or kittens adopted from shelters or animal rescue organizations or found as strays, living with multiple cats, going outside, or living in a hot, humid area, be tested. Especially in homes with young children, or any human that is immunosuppressed through illnesses or transplants. New Jersey along the coast is one of the higher incidence areas.

Symptoms that may appear in cats bitten by fleas, sand fleas, or lice having the Bartonella bacteria, which has entered their bloodstream invading and damaging cells, might include enlarged lymph nodes, fever, lethargy, and/or anorexia, muscle aches, sneezing and runny nose, eye inflammation and discharge, DIARRHEA, and vomiting. According to a pamphlet I got on CSD, while dogs get the bacteria with less occurrence and more from ticks than fleas, they may also experience similar symptoms as cats while having others, including lameness, heart valve disease, platelet disorders- which can result in bleeding from the nose, or skin bruising, and inflammation of the heart i.e. coughing, difficulty breathing, and in very bad cases, fainting. Bartonella infections may also cause persistent or intermittent fevers and flu-like symptoms in humans.

Thank you again for choosing The Wagging Tail as Best of The Jersey Shore, three years in a row. And thank you for supporting a local small business. Come see our kittens and cats!
