HOROSCOPE

FEBRUARY 20 - FEBRUARY 26, 2025

ARIES (Mar. 21- April 20)

A long-awaited social event, perhaps a wedding or christening, could move you to tears, Aries. As you're naturally a person who doesn't like showing your feelings, you might feel the need to get away until the urge to cry has passed. This should be a very happy day for you as well. Your own contentment could seem almost too good to be true.

TAURUS (Apr. 21- May 21)

An intense, emotional dream could move you so powerfully that you wake with the odd sense that the dream was real. Write it down, Taurus. Maybe it is. Efforts to overcome obstacles and advance yourself in your career could finally be paying off. You might be walking around in a daze asking if it's really happened. It has. Make the most of it.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)

Emotional talks with your partner could move you to tears, Gemini. If there have been difficulties in your relationship, you've overcome them and probably reached a new understanding. Any romantic relationship or friendship started or moved forward now shows lasting promise. Your inclination may be to control your feelings, but don't be afraid to show them.

CANCER (June 22-July 22)

You need to take it easy and not try to do everything at once. You could run into difficulties that require help from others who may be out. Pace yourself and control the urge to run through your chores like a steamroller.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22)

Some intense, revealing communications with a close friend or lover could reveal wonderful new things about your relationship. Perhaps you have more in common than you thought. Perhaps fears prove groundless. As a result, Leo, the two of you could grow closer and discover a new mutual sense of purpose. Enjoy the positive feelings, and have a great day.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 23)

Ancient social traditions could be a powerful part of your day, Virgo. An emotional event concerning your family - wedding, christening, or other milestone - could especially move you. In the rush of social interactions, you will probably keep a tight rein on the expression of your feelings. Keeping up appearances could be more important to you than usual.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)

You usually place a lot of importance on self-control, Libra. Today this will come in handy when you receive some wonderful news that might otherwise move you to tears. Don't carry it too far. Under these circumstances, it's OK to let it out a little. Your hard work and dedication are finally paying off. News about possible advancement could come your way.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

Expect some great news regarding money, possibly involving professional advancement. You may have to control the urge to cry tears of joy, Scorpio. In a different vein, a close friend could be going through some changes and might want your support. Your best course of action would be to listen rather than give advice. You may have to control yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

Happy events involving your mother or another close female relative might have you feeling emotional, Sagittarius. It could involve a marriage or birth. Your own projects, particularly those done with other people, could be going well in spite of having to overcome some difficulties.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22.- Jan. 20)

You should find it easier to tune into others' thoughts and feelings. It might be a good idea to control your reactions to them. Don't tell others what you're picking up unless you know for sure they'll want to hear it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 -Feb. 19)

It's more important to listen than talk, Aquarius, even though your practicality might want to express itself. Your affairs should go smoothly, bringing you and those around you a lot of satisfaction.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20)

Acknowledgement of your dedication and hard work could find you more emotionally overwhelmed than makes you comfortable. You may have to make a special effort to control your feelings. You've moved mountains to get where you are and it's nice to be recognized.

Winter Bliss: How To Keep Your Vehicle Cabin Healthy, Clean

Concerns of odors and mold persist in vehicles throughout the year, but as cold weather settles in, they can bring different challenges to drivers.

One main cause of odor is moisture accumulation in the air conditioning and ventilation system. Inactivity allows this moisture to foster a stale odor and, if left untreated, may lead to more mold.

"Water can also enter the passenger cabin by simply getting in and out of the vehicle during inclement weather and can eventually cause mold and odors if not addressed or prevented," says Jim Dvorak of Mothers car care products. There are several steps Dvorak suggests to help deal with and prevent mold and odor problems inside your car.

Below are a few tips to help prevent interior mold, odor, and dust from taking over your vehicle:

- Stow some microfiber towels to mop up moisture from rain getting into the cabin, spilled drinks and wet shoes. Address moisture immediately to help prevent it from seeping into fabrics and creating mold growth.
- Replace cabin air filter to help prevent contaminants from entering the passenger cabin.
- Install rubber floor mats. Check with your service advisor to get a set that offers good fit and function. Use mats that are secure and do not slide about the floorboard and provide good grip for wet shoes. Remove and clean mats frequently during winter.
- Keep upholstery and carpet clean with products intended for automobile interiors.
- Whenever possible park your car in a garage or an enclosed structure to minimize exposure to the elements and outside moisture.
- Run the air conditioning intermittently in winter to circulate air through the system to prevent moisture buildup.
- Pick up food morsels that can break down, embed into fabric and cause odors.
- Remove and store sweaty workout clothes, wet towels, or musty items elsewhere. The moisture adds to vehicle odors, humidity and mold growth.
- Clap wet shoes before entering the vehicle to shake off moisture and remove grime.
- Be cautious about using air fresheners and sprays to mask odors. They may simply mask but not eliminate odors. Instead, get to the root cause so that it doesn't persist, which could cause harm to your car's interior and potentially impact your health

FEBRUARY IS PET DENTAL MONTH, PT 1

Submitted By
Patsy Nelson
from The Wagging Tail

There is much to write about when it comes to pets and their dental health so this article will be in two installments, this week and next week.

If you do not attend to your pet's dental hygiene on a regular basis, you can bet on future expenses, risky (anesthesia), and ensuing healing discomfort for the pet. If you don't have your pet's teeth professionally cleaned, there is the strong possibility of bacteria entering the bloodstream and affecting the heart, liver, and/or kidneys.

A couple recently came into the store and shared with me the dental history of their 12-year-old Chihuahua, Birdie, who is now "immortalized" here. Birdie began having yearly dental cleanings when she was five. At present she only has about ten teeth left. (Adult dogs have forty-two teeth, twenty on the top and twenty-two on the bottom. Adult cats have thirty.)

Just as some humans are blessed with strong teeth and others are not, pets can have abnormally bad teeth from heredity. Certain breeds are predisposed to poor dental health due to such reasons as jaw structure, size of the teeth, or crowding of teeth. Zoey, my nine-year-old Maltese, who was surrendered to me when she was 9 months old, weighs generally 10 to 11 pounds but has the mouth of perhaps a six-pound dog. One of my vets initially suggested that I take her to a pet orthodontist, which I never did, and she later said her teeth were better aligned. And her teeth are quite white. (I will tell you how next week.) Breeds like Yorkshire Terriers, Dachshunds, and Maltese tend to be at higher risk for dental problems.

Brachycephalic breeds, flat-faced dogs like Pugs and Bulldogs, are likely to have misaligned teeth because of their skull shape, making it harder to keep teeth clean and free of plaque. Some dogs, like Birdie, may suffer from enamel hypoplasia, where the tooth enamel is abnormally soft, thereby easily decaying.

Cat breeds likely at risk for dental disease are Siamese and Oriental short hair, Maine Coon, British short hair, Abyssinian, Russian Blue, Scottish Fold, Persian and European Domestic.

According to statistics, most pets (80-90 percent), over three years of age, even Zoey, whose teeth look okay to the naked eye, have some form of dental disease. I will discuss the various techniques, toys, and chewies that will assist you in keeping a pet's teeth healthy.

Thank you as always for your continued support of a small local business dedicated to the welfare and happiness of your pets. Beacon Wagging Tail will carry on my vision- even better. I will be consulting and assisting on a part-time basis. AND PLEASE GIVE YOUR HOUSE- DOG PROTECTION FROM THE DAMP CHILLY WEATHER, even just to go from the car to the store. If you add layers to yourself, add a layer or two to your pet.

Thank You for Supporting Our Small Business.
